HALSEY REJOINS THIRD FLEET IN PACIFIC

Fire Destroys 9 Barracks At Ft. Harrison

Incendiary fires, started by rioting soldier-prisoners at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., burn fiercely, destroying nine barracks. A guard was killed and three prisoners seriously wounded, in what Army officials said was an attempted mass break by soldiers serving court-martial sentences.

The War Today..

Japanese Tactics

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP War Analyst

PRESIDENT TRUMAN's disclosure the U. S. army in the Pacific ultimately will be twice its present size, and "bigger than our army was in Europe at its height," will fall on sorry ears in a Japan which already is apparently abandoning its hold on southern China and concentrating its strength in the north.

There are signs the Mikado's warlords are adopting Hitler's strategy for his desperate last-ditch stand. This was to fight a delaying action, and ultimately to retire into his inner fortress for a finish fight. Meanwhile he pinned his slender hopes on some circumstance causing a quarrel among the Allies. Appropos of this, the well-informed British official military commentator Veritas makes these observations:

"Japan at the present time finds herself in a situation not unlike that of Germany before D-day. In a sense the Japanese are awaiting their own D-day. They have suffered considerable reverses in cutting territories, their naval power has been crippled so that it lacks of communication or keep Allied forces out of Japanese home waters, and Allied submarines and air attacks have already destroyed a large proportion of their ocean-going transport."

"In these circumstances Japan is evidently falling back on the 'fortress' technique, and adopting the 'fortress' mentality. Just as Germany planned to hold the Reich with its neighboring countries behind impenetrable defenses and with supporting bastions in the Balkans, Italy and Norway, so, in very much the same way, the Japanese are proclaiming their intention to carry on the fight to the death in defense of Japan itself, with Korea, Manchuria and northern China. YANKS DRIVE ON AIRFIELD

Harbor Also Is Objective After Conquest Of Shuri

By HAMILTON W. FARON

GUAM, June 2.—The U. S. 10th army, after completing capture of Japan's main defense line on southern Okinawa by capturing all of Shuri, sprang forking drives today aimed at obtaining use of the island's best airfield and harbor.

A front line dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Al Dopping said another 10 days may see the end of organized enemy resistance.

An Okinawa dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland noted, however, the west coast peninsula below the fallen capital of Naha is "alive with troops" in position to defend the big Naha airfield.

An official navy spokesman said yesterday in Washington he was convinced the backbone of Japan's Okinawa defenses has been broken.

The unnamed American Navy spokesman in Washington listed losses of 23 U. S. navy ships and two merchant ammunition ships in the Okinawa area since the invasion on April 1. More than 40 others have been damaged.

ALUMNI GIVE SCHOLARSHIPS TO 3 SENIORS

Awards Are Presented At Annual Banquet; Class of '45 Gives $640

Scholarship awards totaling $750 were presented to the first three honor graduates of the 1945 graduating class of Salem High school at the 43rd annual reunion and banquet of the school's Alumni association last night in the Masonic temple.

The first award of $275 went to Joseph F. (Jim) Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Kelley, who plans to enter Dartmouth for a pre-medical course.

Carl Ferreri, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ferreri, received the second award of $275. He will enter Case School of Applied Science.

Third award of $200 was granted to Marjorie Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Reeves. She will enter Flora Stone Mather college, Cleveland.

Class of '45 Donates $640

In announcing the awards, Judge Joel H. Sharp, chairman of the scholarship committee, named Marjorie Zeller as first alternate and Betty Cibula as second alternate.

President Neil Grisev, who presided over the program following the dinner, welcomed the 1945 class into the association. In responding, President Charles Schaeffer of the Senior class presented the class gift of $640 to the scholarship fund. It was the largest amount received since the gift from the class of 1930.

As the group assembled at the banquet tables, Fred E. Cope led in singing and invocation was pronounced by Rev. Fr. John Lavelle.

Brief talks by Dr. Mary White of Cleveland, class of 1878, and Miss Nora Hise, class of 1881, proved to be among the most interesting features of the program.

The principal address was given by William S. Miller of Youngstown, who outlined the great opportunities made possible by business and industry, and emphasized the importance of their contributions in making America a great nation. Developments which await the green light for peace-time production will revolutionize living conditions and provide more employment than ever before, he said.

BERLIN SABOTEURS WARNED BY REDS

LONDON, June 2.—Indicating the appearance of anti-Russian activity in the area of the shattered German capital, Arthur Werner, the Soviet-appointed mayor of Berlin, has warned Germans that 50 former Nazis would be shot for every attempt on the life of a Red army soldier or Russian official.

Meanwhile, an Associated Press dispatch from Geneva quoted Emil E. Bosch, International Red Cross representative just returned from Berlin, as saying some 500,000 misplaced persons and 100,000 Allied prisoners of war still were milled about in the general area of Berlin and needed prompt inter-allied aid to avoid starvation and epidemics.

Halt Canning Sugar Program; 4,000 Requests Granted Here

Issuance of home canning sugar ended today in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia. In drastic action aimed to alleviate already limited sugar supplies in the five-state region, the Office of Price Administration directed last night that the 675 War Price and Rationing boards halt fulfillment of canning sugar applications.

However, the Salem board already has approved 4,000 canning sugar applications.

FREAK WEATHER Everything Good Except Weather, Records For May Reveal

Put May, 1945, down as a month of freak weather.

That's the report of Weather Observer L. H. Copeland of Millport, whose records show that all month there were many sudden changes in temperature, an abundance of rain, 10 killing frosts, five thunder storms, snow, hail and sleet and in fact everything except good weather.

The average temperature of 54.4 degrees was 3.6 degrees below the 52-year average. Maximum of 84 was recorded on May 21, minimum of 25 on May 2. The month was only 2.4 degrees warmer than April.

Total precipitation of 3.4 inches was slightly more than the normal of 3.34 inches over a 52-year period. Rain fell on 16 days, yet there was 55 per cent sunshine. There were eight clear days, 10 partly cloudy and 13 cloudy.

Planting of crops is now three weeks behind schedule. Corn planting was delayed until the end of the month. Early planted oats are promising, and pastures, meadows and wheat fields look fine. However, the hay crop probably will be below normal. Good growing weather from now on is needed to insure corn, oats and potato crops.

May, 1944, was the warmest on record, with a mean temperature of 65.6 degrees. The coldest, in 1917, had an average of 51.6 degrees. In 1929, the wettest May, 65 inches of rain fell and in 1934, the driest, only .62 of an inch fell.

"All district and board quotas heretofore established have been withdrawn as of the effective date of this order," said Birkett L. Williams, OPA regional director at Cleveland, "pending development of a plan which will hold home canning sugar issuance within the quotas allotted OPA region III by the War Food Administration."

Williams reported home canning sugar distribution at the rate of recent weeks would have called for an oversupply of about 100,000,000 pounds in this region, or 50 per cent above quota.

10-Day Delay Seen

The order will probably remain in effect for 10 days, the regional director asserted.

He said applications in the mail postmarked prior to midnight June 1 and those being processed will be held until new board and district quotas are announced.

"This drastic action has been made necessary," continued Williams, "because so many people have applied for canning sugar in areas where fruit is not available now."

The telegram received by the Salem rationing board read:

"Effective at 12:01 a. m. Saturday (today) discontinue all home canning sugar issuance until further notice pending development of a plan for keeping regional issuances within quotas allotted to the OPA by the War Food Administration."

"This action is necessary because so many people have applied for sugar in amounts which obviously cannot now be used for canning purposes. Do not distribute or accept further applications."

200 Carrier Planes Raid Japan Anew

By LEONARD MILLMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Some 200 carrier-based fighter planes raided southern Japan today, Tokyo radio reported, in what may be the opening strike of new sea-borne power blows foreshadowing the return to action of Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey and his Third fleet.

Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, Fifth fleet commander yielding direction of the vast American armada to Halsey, disclosed that the "greatest naval casualties in any of our operations" have been suffered in the Okinawa campaign, during which United States ships have been harried almost daily by suicide planes.

Today's reported carrier attack supplemented recent Superfortress fire raids which Japanese propagandists admitted have inflicted such "shockingly great" damage and left so many thousands homeless that martial law may be declared throughout Japan.

Tokyo said the sea-borne fighters were joined by flying boats based in the Ryukyu islands near Okinawa and for two hours they bombed and strafed air bases and railways on Kyushu island.

The change in fleets was announced by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz today as the Okinawa campaign on the southern doorstep to Japan entered its closing phase.

Four Yank divisions made advances ranging from 400 yards up to a mile and a half yesterday as the 24th infantry division mopped up the stretch-filled ruins of Shuri, shattered keystone of the enemy's broken defense line.

Thrusts down the center and either flank threatened to isolate a west coast peninsula "alive with Japanese troops" apparently ready to make a death stand in defense of Naha airfield, and Chinen peninsula on the east coast, where thousands of civilians were hiding in caves.

Okinawan-based planes patrolling Korean waters and submarines in the Southwest Pacific were finding increasingly poor hunting for Japanese ships. The reason was indicated in a report of Southwest Pacific air operations, which in the first five months this year sank 2-11,742 tons of shipping, and added five more vessels yesterday. Since Jan. 1 they have also destroyed 1-230 planes and dropped 70,000 tons of bombs in support of ground operations.

Ten Superforts were lost out of the formations of 450 making yesterday's fire raid on Osaka, second largest city of Japan, which returning air men said was unquestionably successful.

Veteran fire raiders reported seeing the most fires and greatest smoke clouds of any strikes against Japan and "the heart of Osaka seemed to be burning out."

Japanese propagandists said residents of burned out Tokyo were burrowing into the ground in thousands of "dugout" homes. Consolidation broadcasts for the Japanese by Tokyo were a promise there would be no "cheap road to victory" for the Allies through Japanese surrenders and a claim that 303 American ships had been sunk and 263 heavily damaged since the Okinawa operation began March 23. These included 85 carriers, battleships and cruisers reported sunk and 75 damaged. All announced U. S. losses have been lighter craft.

Strength Unchanged

The initial invasion of Okinawa alone involved 7,800,000,000 worth of U. S. ships using a billion dollars worth of planes and supplies.

The same sort of force, or larger, is available to Halsey wherever he plans to strike. And left Erickson, Associated Press war correspondent on Guam, noted that Spruance who now goes ashore after four months of operations, "will be planning the greatest and most powerful assaults yet delivered against Japan objectives."

The change in commands also brought Vice Adm. John S. McCain back to command of fast carrier forces which have been led by Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher. Adm. Richmond Kelly Turner relinquished command of amphibious operations to Vice Adm. Harry W. Hill.

COUNTY MEAT PLAN ADOPTED

OPA's "Fair Distribution" Program Will Become Effective June 17

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The OPA today promised each county of the nation a fair share of the short meat supply.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles announced a "fair distribution plan" directing all commercial slaughterers to resume the pattern of distribution they followed in the first three months of 1944.

Bowles emphasized the plan will not give each area as much meat as last year, but he called it "a long way towards the goal of fair and even distribution of the supply that we do have."

The new action supplements an earlier order limiting the amount of farm slaughter for sale and slaughter by non-federally inspected plants.

Federally inspected meat, in addition to supplying the armed forces, is the only meat that can be shipped across state lines.

"Already animals going to federally inspected plants are on the increase," Bowles said in a statement.

Effective June 17, Describing the "fair distribution plan" as a logical followup, Bowles said some slaughterers, "for a variety of reasons," have changed their normal pattern of geographical distribution, thereby accounting in large measure for present faulty distribution.

The order will become effective June 17.

During each reporting period (month) any slaughterer must deliver into each county at least 80 per cent (by weight) of the proportionate amount of the civilian meat supply he delivered into that county in each of the first three months of 1944.

During any three consecutive accounting periods, however, a slaughterer's deliveries into each county must come up to 90 per cent of the proportionate amount he delivered during each of the first three months of 1944.

Slaughterers who keep records on the basis of trading areas rather than counties may apply for an exception. Deliveries, however, must follow the pattern of distribution in the base period.

GIRL INJURED AS HORSE HITS AUTO

Marjorie Mawhinney, 13, of 882 S. Lincoln ave., suffered a lacerated elbow when she was thrown from a horse when the animal darted out of a Salem Golf club drive on the Lisbon road and ran into the side of a passing car at 4 p. m. yesterday.

The car was driven by Gertrude Martin, 42, of 166 N. Union ave., state patrolman said. The horse was cut about its front shoulder and legs.

In another accident investigated by the patrol at 1:25 p. m. Friday, Milton W. Goddard, 27, of R. D. 5, Salem, escaped unhurt although his automobile was demolished.

The car struck a tree after attempting to pass a truck on Route 14 in Millville and then bounded back on the opposite side of the road.

Another Route 14 accident near Millville at 5 p. m. yesterday involved cars driven by Mary Driscoll, 37, of R. D. 1, Lectoria, and Clarence H. Smith, 25, of 493 Washington ave. No one was injured when the vehicles sideswiped.

Token Receptions

When fighting men still abroad hear descriptions of the enthusiastic receptions given generals home from Europe and awaiting others soon to return, they should remember that these are token receptions.

The generals are fine and have done a great job, but it's their armies who are being paid the tribute. Back home it is being realized belatedly that circumstances never will permit community-wide receptions for returning fighting men. Most of them will come home by ones, twos and half dozens. What they have done in Europe cannot be celebrated properly until they have finished in Japan—and what they will do there cannot be celebrated until they have been brought back. There undoubtedly will be attempts to get around the obstacles in the way of a razzle-dazzle reception to fit the occasion, but the obstacles are going to be formidable.

Unfortunately, there can't be a general for every populated place in the country to applaud, nor even a colonel. But while the generals last, it's going to be part of their post V-E responsibility to take bows for the millions of men whose achievements have given their countrymen so much to cheer about. The same role awaits the generals who will come home from the Pacific. There should be no misunderstanding about who is getting the applause. The generals are great, they are able and they are heroes, but they aren't the men whose homecoming is being awaited by millions.

Kamikaze

Japanese suicide pilots—the Kamikaze Air Corps—have become the most publicized and apparently the most formidable single threat to American advances in the Pacific. The admittedly congested condition of west coast shipyards and the acute need of manpower to make repairs testify to Japan's success with this desperate tactic. According to the Tokyo radio, it is to be used even more widely in the future; this is said to be part of the reason behind the latest shakeup of the Japanese naval command.

Kamikaze is the equivalent in the Japanese war of the dive bombers that were Germany's most publicized and most feared weapon in the early stages of the European war. The dive bombers, it is recalled, spread terror as well as destruction. There seemed no way to stop them. The Germans, taking advantage of their victims' feeling of futility, even equipped their planes with noise-makers to heighten the impression of terror.

The dive bombers ultimately were discounted by improved defenses. It is not to be imagined that the Germans quit using them because pilots no longer could be found to take the risk of flying them. They were abandoned because they were not able to justify the expense of losing them. The Kamikaze Corps is giving the United States Navy some rough experiences. Losses are mounting. The suicide pilots and planes have created a minor sensation. But by so doing, they have made certain the means of offsetting them. That is the changeless rule of warfare—that each weapon ultimately produces its opposite in defense.

After the Killing Starts

It is ridiculous to say that if the United Nations had been organized, the trouble in Syria and Lebanon could not have happened.

The trouble happened because two jealous powers, both anxious to exploit a backward and impotent people, were maneuvering for advantage. While they were maneuvering, the people got out of hand, to the consternation of certain other powers and perhaps the delight of some others.

Thereupon, the troops of one of the powers, France, with an unbroken record for unenlightened administration in Syria ever since it fell to them in the race for colonies during the post-Napoleonic expansion, resorted to shooting. Inevitably, a large number of the helpless inhabitants stopped bullets and died or received wounds.

No league, no council, nothing but intelligence and goodwill could have prevented what happened. After the killing starts, unfortunately, it's too late for goodwill, and the very act of killing testifies to the absence of intelligence. Here is another one of those problems, like India, which cannot be solved by remote judgment and probably cannot be solved at all. It merely can be dealt with.

Every time the responsible authority resorts to killing that is the certain sign of failure. Everybody is to blame, perhaps—the point is indeterminate—but the fact is the French troops who did the killing and the stupid men who gave the order have the most to explain. If we have fought two World wars without learning that shooting settles nothing, the lives and treasure have been wasted.

Women crime investigators are as valuable as men, says an Ohio judge. Maybe because they're good lookers.

Financial assets of Nazi leaders have been frozen, with only $30 a month allowed for living expenses. How long will they need living expenses?

On too many occasions driving to the meat market doesn't come under the head of an essential trip.

Cleveland is planning an exhibition of livestock in its Public Hall. My gosh, are we going to be charged, now, just to look at meat?

Only 200,000 new cars is the motor outlook for 1945—meaning look out that you don't junk that old jalopy yet.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, June 3.

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds favorable auguries for the affairs of church ecclesiastics and those in employment, but may not assist in other directions. There are signs of sudden upsets, of deep anxiety and far-reaching significance. There may be loss of substance, energies and personal standing, through prodigality and excess that might provoke conflict with authorities. Erratic, rash and irregular conduct might invoke severe penalties and deep disaster.

Those whose birthday it is, while having some sound and temperate inclinations, are under an urge to irrational, erratic, and devastating impulses, causing loss of prestige, position, funds and energy, and inviting drastic interference from those in influential places. It is enjoined that in such emotional or wild "drives" there be pause for reflection and composure so that fundamental integrity, good sense and logic may prevail with salutary effect.

A child born on this day, although in its deep and inherent nature may have sound, rational and responsible foundations, yet may be swayed by its emotions and impulses, tumultuous, reckless and wayward. Early direction is recommended.

For Monday, June 4.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for a state of affairs of rather spectacular or pyrotechnic aspect, in which the energies, emotions, impulses and conduct are prone to "run riot." Nevertheless should these highly stimulated energies and impulses be harnessed and diverted into creative or constructive channels, there might be outstanding accomplishment or a dramatic stroke of good fortune, unprecedented and unpredictable. It is quite probable that such sensational denouements may operate in the realm of the home, or heart, or in emotional or romantic adventure. Also, the scientific and inventive talents are keen.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared to meet a year of sudden and unpredictable visitations, in which dramatic and long-range crises may prove startling, disruptive and devastating. These greatly stimulated forces may be turned into highly creative and lucrative channels, with surprisingly good luck. This thrilling influence may affect the emotions in exciting romantic adventure.

A child born on this day will possess greatly stimulated creative skills, inventive, scientific, and should be given early training for most spectacular and dramatic expression. Its private life may be romantic, adventurous.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Summertime Diets

BY HERMAN N. BUNDENSEN, M.D.

WHEN WARM weather approaches, the question often arises as to whether or not the diet should be altered to meet summertime conditions. Now, this is not a simple problem to solve. Some years ago, the idea was advanced that during the summer months, the amount of protein in the diet should be reduced. The foods which are especially rich in protein include meat, milk, eggs, fish and such vegetables as beans and peas.

This idea arose because it is known that proteins have what is called a specific dynamic action which, in simple terms, means that they tend to speed up the chemical activities in the body and increase the amount of heat production. When this discovery was first made, it was thought that the amino acids, of which proteins are composed, had a stimulating action on all of the cells in the body.

Animal Experiment
More recently, Doctors Ernest B. Forbes and Raymond W. Swift of Pennsylvania State College in experimenting on animals, came to the conclusion that the specific dynamic effect of a diet is not dependent entirely upon its protein content.

Doctors Forbes and Swift think that starches and sugars cause the most pronounced effect on the chemical activities in the body and fats and oils the least. Their results, therefore, suggest that it is not necessary or even advisable to diminish the protein content of the diet for human beings during warm weather in order to help keep cool and avoid overheating. In fact, their work would seem to indicate that it may be well to use a diet containing plenty of fats during the warmer months as is done in some tropical countries.

Plenty of Proteins
The eating of plenty of protein foods in the summer will not cause a heating effect in the body and increase hot weather discomfort. While this idea is contrary to that theory which was proposed years ago, it would appear on the basis of the evidence to be substantially correct.

It is just as important in warm weather as during the colder months to keep the diet balanced. This means enough protein foods to furnish materials for repair of tissues and for growth in the child. It means enough starches, sugars, fats, and particularly, vegetables and fruits to supply vitamins and minerals. Of course, it is always a good plan to have plenty of fluids in the diet, especially during warmer months to aid in the elimination of wastes and to help regulate body temperature.

Logical Follow-up

DANVILLE, Ill.—After 36 years of tying marital knots, the "marrying squire" of Danville, former Peace Justice Henry E. Brown, has taken to selling real estate since his recent defeat in the city election. He figures that because he has heard the vows of more than 8,000 couples, many returning soldiers, whom he has married, will want to "buy a home and settle down." He feels he should do a land-office business.

A SONG to REMEMBER

by Willard Wiener

Copyright, 1945, Willard Wiener

XXI
The ballroom, a whirl of buzz and color, was crowded to overflowing. The Duke in a officer's uniform and the Duchess glittering in satin and jewels mingled with the guests, bowing to one, stopping to exchange a few words with another. A flunkey announced the new arrivals and the pronouncement of some especially celebrated name caused murmurs and a respectful craning of necks. A small group had collected about Heine that remarkable German who had no taste for either beer or sauerkraut and preferred Paris to Berlin. The critic Kalkbrenner had his own coterie to whom he was discoursing on the relative merits of Italian and French operas. At the sight of Liszt he stopped long enough to bow, then when that Hungarian master had passed on he resumed exactly where he had left off.

George Sand, followed by a retainer de Musset, bowed to the Duke and Duchess. George was dressed for the occasion in a handsome gown that trailed along the polished floor.

Alfred de Musset said: "George, I am sorry—"

"Please, Alfred."

"—George, you will have them all laughing at me. I shouldn't have come. Why did I come?"

"There's Heine," George said. "Dismissing," said de Musset. "Revoluting."

George took Alfred's arm. She was accustomed to his petulance. She was very fond of Alfred. But he needed a woman's mothering.

"George, if you insist on this—"

"—What are you talking about? Alfred, please make sense."

"It is all right to be witty, George. But there wasn't a word of wit—not a word of sarcasm—nothing but glowing phrases—in your notice about that vile, impertinent amateur pianist—"

"—Oh, Chopin!"

"George, do you think it is easy for me to dismiss him from my mind after—"

"Aren't you taking too much for granted, Alfred?"

"But—it—"

"Yes, Alfred."

"—It wouldn't be the first time, George—"

"Alfred!"

"—Even Liszt," Alfred said bitterly.

"You dare suggest it? I forbid you—"

"Then I say, Alfred, I don't give a second damn for the public—The contemptible jumento! Ah, Franz!"

Franz Liszt greeted them. De Musset turned his head.

"On my word, Franz, I don't know what to do with Alfred."

Liszt said in a low voice: "What known what's underneath the surface."

"—Professor!"

"—Tch, tch—I am only saying."

"May I steal your protégé, Professor—for not very long?"

"—Certainly! I'll make myself acquainted. But I beg you, Maestro, don't lose him. Frederic!"

"—Umm. Don't you get yourself lost."

"Ah, if I do that, Professor—I will be under this roof where think all Paris must be tonight."

"—Eh?"

"I am only saying, Professor—I wouldn't think of getting lost."

"—No, certainly not. Certainly not!" Jozef Elsner grinned. He showed his teeth. Then he watched Frederic and Franz Liszt move into the throng and out of sight.

Jozef Elsner sniffed. He looked over the company. He moved along the wall slowly. He bumped his way in and out of the crowd, trying to keep out of everybody's way. He caught sight of the critic Kalkbrenner who was still discoursing on Italian and French operas. Louis Pleyel was in the small group about Kalkbrenner.

"—Louis—"

"—Shss—"

"—My dear Louis—" Jozef Elsner grinned into the door face also of an even more dour Kalkbrenner.

"—Good evening," Jozef Elsner said. "Good evening."

Bill Voiselle's Reversal Of Form Stumps Teammates

BY JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Voiselle's surprising form reversal had baseball tongues wagging today as the New York Giants continued to drop back toward the pack in the National league.

It looked as though Voiselle has about to register his initial victory of the first western league night but the St. Louis Cardinals spurted for three in the last of the ninth to tip the score in their favor, 4-3.

Voiselle really had an excuse for that one although it would be hard to find any logical reason for his failure to last more than three innings in three previous starts, two of which he was charged with losing.

The ace righthander held a 3-1 lead going into the ninth at Sportsman's park and had given up one more run when a severe wind and rain storm interrupted play for almost an hour.

When Voiselle again took the hill, Ray Sanders greeted him with a score-tying single and Whitey Kurowski tripled to win the game for reliever Harry Brecheen. It was the Giants' fifth setback in their last six games.

Cincy Beats Brooklyn
Bucky Walters recovered from a shaky start by going 13 innings for Cincinnati to beat Brooklyn, 6-3. Frank McCormick's three-run homer broke up the marathon night duel. The win stretched Cincinnati's victory string to six.

Pittsburgh, which took over second place by a 6-5 shade over Philadelphia, holds a three-percentage point edge on the Cards and Brooks, who are tied for third.

Chicago's tilt with Boston was washed out in the fifth before the Braves could make it legal, with Mort Cooper holding a 5-1 edge at the time.

New York's Yankees greeted Cleveland like long lost relatives after a tough series with Detroit and pummeled the Indians, 9-2, behind Floyd Bevens' five-hitter.

Detroit dropped two full games behind the Yankees by bowing to Boston, 6-4, when Walt Wilson and 18-year-old Bill Pierce walked in two runs with the bases loaded. Dave Ferriss, appearing as a pinch-hitter, walked to force in the tie-breaking score.

Washington had the same trouble when Walt Holbrook passed three Chicago batters in succession to hand the White Sox an 11-9 decision in the 11th.

Sig Jakucki's three-hit, 4-0 white-wash of Philadelphia for St. Louis was the finest job of the day and the Brownie hurler helped his own cause with a triple that started the scoring.

150 Athletes In Great Lakes Meet

GREAT LAKES, Ill., June 2 — A field of 150 athletes representing 18 universities, colleges and service bases matched talent today in the 26th annual Central Collegiate track and field championships, with the best Great Lakes squad favored to replace absent Illinois as team titlist.

The Bluejackets of Great Lakes were expected to dominate the running events, from the sprints up to the two-mile event with such entries as Grever Klemmer, former University of California speedster; Les Elsenhart, veteran distance performer from Ohio State; quarter-miler Tom Cara; and two-mile Jack Kammer.

The Western conference was represented by seven schools. Neither Illinois, 1945 conference champion, nor Michigan's runner-up squad sent teams. Big Ten entries included Ohio State, Wisconsin, Purdue, Iowa, Minnesota, Northwestern and Indiana.

Other contenders included Notre Dame and Wright Field (Ohio).

BOUDREAU GIVEN ORDERS TO REST

Leaves Wigwag For Ten Days As Tribe Plays New York Yanks

NEW YORK, June 2 — Faced with the loss of Manager Lou Boudreau for 10 days, the Cleveland Indians gave Ed Killeman his first starting pitching assignment today against the high-flying New York Yankees. Boudreau, advised by a specialist to retire temporarily because of an ulcerated eye, was replaced at shortstop by Eddie Wheeler as the Tribe lost yesterday to the Yankees, 9-2.

Wheeler, up from San Diego, led the five-hit Indian attack with two singles but committed a costly error in the fourth inning to allow New York three unearned runs.

Southpaw Al Smith and Hal Kline were combined for 14 hits, including Nick Etten's fourth homer of the year, as the Yankees increased their American league lead to two games. It was Smith's third loss against a single victory.

Many Think Pot o' Luck Will Give Wright His Third Derby

Pot o' Luck, Bobby Permane up.

By NEA Service
LOUISVILLE, June 2 — Many suspect Pot o' Luck will win a third Kentucky Derby for owner Warren Wright and a fourth for Ben Jones, June 9.

It was not until July 18 that Jones saddled the son of Chance Play-Potheon by Wildair for his first appearance in a five-and-a-half furlong maiden affair at Washington Park, the brown colt running second. Two weeks later he again placed over a muddy strip.

On both occasions he closed rapidly and the astute Jones opined that he would do better in the fall over a distance. In his following three starts, Pot o' Luck met the toughest juveniles and was out of the coin each trip. In the Belmont Futurity, however, he gave an inkling of the fact that he was much improved. In the rack in the early part, he uncorked speed that swept him from 11th to fifth.

Breaks Maiden In Style

On the morning of the Champagne Stakes at Belmont, Pot o' Luck was still a maiden. Thirteen went to the post in that event in which, just two years before, Count Fleet ran the mile in 1:34 4/5, the fastest eight furlongs ever negotiated by a juvenile. That topped Alsab's time of the year before in the same number, which was the swiftest ever recorded by a 2-year-old until the son of Reigh Count came roaring along.

Ridden by Bobby Permane, Pot o' Luck was far off the pace in the early running. Working his way up on the outside, he responded to urging and got up to win from Sir Francis by a head.

Best Where Racing Begins
When the Calumet string was moved to Pimlico, Pot o' Luck was given a brief rest. Jones waited

The Eagles managed to beat the Sinclairs Friday evening in the only Class A softball game played Friday evening at Centennial park. The Oils collected 12 hits off W. Ehrhart for their 12 runs but the Eagles bunched their seven hits more effectively.

Jap Okinawa Exodus Begins

Boy Is Drowned
CHILLICOTHE, June 2.—Elias Pennessy, Jr., six, drowned in the Scioto river near the City park yesterday while wading with a younger brother and two friends, who failed to tell police, Patrolman William Thorp said.
Thorp said the boys did not report the drowning and search did not get underway until park officials overheard other children say that a boy had drowned.

Weds Son's Wife's Mother
COLUMBUS, June 2.—An Ohio father, for the second time, is following in his son's footsteps.
Paul Bernard List, 42-year-old Cincinnati salesman, obtained a license here yesterday to marry Mrs. Lora V. Barnett, mother of his son's wife, Paul, Jr., married Jean Barnett a year ago.

not get underway until park officials overheard other children say that a boy had drowned.

Lt. Dean Chatlain of Hudson, Ohio, who has spoken to War Bond Rallies in Salem, gained national prominence when it was learned that he had amputated his own foot following a battle in North Africa.

While in the shadow of death he wrote the poem which follows:

What Did You Do Today?

What did you do today, my friend,
From morn until night?
How many times did you complain,
"The rationing is too tight?"
When are you going to start to do
All the things you say?
A Soldier would like to know, my friend,
What did you do today?

We met the enemy today
And took his town by storm;
Happy reading it will make
For you tomorrow morn.
You'll read with satisfaction
The brief communique.
We fought, but are you fighting?
What did you do today?

My gunner died in my arms today,
I feel his warm blood yet;
Your neighbor's dying boy gave out
A scream I can't forget.
On my right, a tank was hit,
A flash, and then the fire;
The stench of burning human flesh
Still rises from their pyre.

What did you do today, my friend,
To help us with the task?
Did you work harder and longer for less,
Or is that too much to ask?
What right have I to ask you this
You probably will say;
Maybe now you'll understand
You see I died today!

WAR CONTRACTS WILL TAPER OFF

Two-Billion Cancellation
Per Month Is Planned,
House Group Told

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Government war contracts will be cancelled at the rate of $2,000,000,000 a month for the next six months, E. L. Putnam, acting director of the office of contract settlement, told the house appropriations committee, in hearings made public today, the bulk of the cancellations will be on Army, Navy and Maritime commission business.

The War Production board is working on the theory that the war with Japan will continue until June 30, 1946—at least.
WPB Chairman J. A. Krug testified:
"We have only one policy; that is to prepare for a long war as the most certain way to have a short one." Consequently he fixed his agency's financial budget on the theory of a mid-1946 V-J day.

An average of 71,000 18-year-olds were processed for actual military service each month during 1944. Maj. Gen. Lewis S. Hershey, Selective Service director, informed the committee.
Of the 100,000 who became 18 each month—the group which would be affected by pending compulsory peacetime draft legislation—Major Gen. Hershey estimated that 29,000 were rejected for various reasons.

On the basis of Hershey's statement, the peacetime draft proposals would yield 852,000 youths for military training annually, and most would, after a year of training, be liable for active duty in an emergency.

Tonday's line, was announced in today's fleet communique.
On the west coast below fallen Naha, Maj. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd's Sixth Marine division crossed the Kokuba river yesterday. That put it in position to cut across a peninsula containing the largest and best enemy airfield on Okinawa.

On the east coast, the Seventh Infantry division appeared south in an apparent drive to cut off Chinese peninsula forming the southern arm of Nakagusaku harbor. That major anchorage, once used by the Japanese fleet, thus could be opened to American warships.

The Nipponese battled fiercely at Kokuba village, southeast of Naha, as the Sixth Marine division set up a 1,000-yard line along the Kokuba river.

E. Palestine to Purchase Turbine for Light Plant

EAST PALESTINE, June 2.—The War Production board has given East Palestine permission to buy a new steam turbine for the electric light plant, Mayor Walter A. Hunston reports.

The turbine is one part of a large quantity of new equipment to be bought for the plant in connection with a $200,000 improvement program.
Mayor Hunston and City Engineer F. S. Barkhoff of Salem, recently spent two days in Washington seeking approval of the WPB.
The improvements will include, besides the turbine, a condenser and supporting equipment, enlarging of the spray pond, and a new boiler. The new equipment will boost the kilowatt hour capacity of the plant from 3,000 to 5,500, officials explained.

Meanwhile bids are being sought for two 750-gallon-per-minute water pumps and equipment to enlarge the spray pond. The bids on the water pumps will be opened June 6.
Money for the improvements will come from the plant depreciation fund.

"Since the collapse of Germany, Japanese diplomacy has been concentrating on the recently necessary task of conciliating Russia.

"There is naturally no information as to whether this verbal wooing of Moscow is being followed by an offer of gifts. Certain French commentators have been asserting roundly that Japan is prepared to hand over Manchuria in order to win over the Russians. An offer of that kind seems most unlikely, for the food and armament production of Manchukuo are essential to Japan in meeting the forthcoming assault of the Allies from the south. Certainly Japan would give a very great deal to buy off Russia now during the deadliest crisis in Japanese history."

Boy Is Drowned
CHILLICOTHE, June 2.—Elias Fennessy, Jr., six, drowned in the Scioto river near the City park yesterday while wading with a younger brother and two friends, who failed to tell police, Patrolman William Thorp said.
Thorp said the boys did not report the drowning and search did not get underway until park officials overheard other children say that a boy had drowned.

Lt. Dean Chatlain of Hudson, Ohio, who has spoken to War Bond Rallies in Salem, gained national prominence when it was learned that he had amputated his own foot following a battle in North Africa.

While in the shadow of death he wrote the poem which follows:

What Did You Do Today?

What did you do today, my friend,
From morn until night?
How many times did you complain,
"The rationing is too tight?"
When are you going to start to do
All the things you say?
A Soldier would like to know, my friend,
What did you do today?

We met the enemy today
And took his town by storm;
Happy reading it will make
For you tomorrow morn.
You'll read with satisfaction
The brief communique.
We fought, but are you fighting?
What did you do today?

My gunner died in my arms today,
I feel his warm blood yet;
Your neighbor's dying boy gave out
A scream I can't forget.
On my right, a tank was hit,
A flash, and then the fire;
The stench of burning human flesh
Still rises from their pyre.

What did you do today, my friend,
To help us with the task?
Did you work harder and longer for less,
Or is that too much to ask?
What right have I to ask you this
You probably will say;
Maybe now you'll understand
You see I died today!

WAR CONTRACTS WILL TAPER OFF

Two Billion Cancellation
Per Month Is Planned,
House Group Told

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Government war contracts will be cancelled at the rate of $2,000,000,000
a month for the next six months,
R. L. Putnam, acting director of the office of contract settlement, told the house appropriations committee, in hearings made public today, the bulk of the cancellations will be on Army, Navy and Maritime commission business.

The War Production board is working on the theory that the war with Japan will continue until June 30, 1946—at least.
WPB Chairman J. A. Krug testified:
"We have only one policy; that is to prepare for a long war as the most certain way to have a short one." Consequently he fixed his agency's financial budget on the theory of a mid-1946 V-J day.

An average of 71,099 18-year-olds were processed for actual military service each month during 1944,
Maj. Gen. Lewis S. Hershey, Selective Service director, informed the committee.
Of the 100,000 who became 18 each month—the group which would be affected by pending compulsory peacetime draft legislation—Major
Gen. Hershey estimated that 29,000 were rejected for various reasons.

On the basis of Hershey's statement, the peacetime draft proposals would yield 82,000 youths for military training annually, and most would, after a year of training, be liable for active duty in an emergency.
